Dear Friends,

A calendar is a curious thing. It marks each day with absolute certainty. It tells us about the future, as if it were a prophet. But as Jews, we know that everything we have, including time, is from G-d, and all that is “on loan” to us. No man truly knows what awaits him tomorrow. I hope, therefore, this calendar will be regarded as a reminder that each day is a gift. Every moment is sacred time to do what is right with what G-d has given us.

Many of our families in Las Vegas have come to embrace Judaism’s deep spiritual principles about time – observing Shabbat, setting aside quality time for family, devoting personal days to charity, reserving hours to meditate on the beauty of just being alive. At Bet Yossef Community Center, we invite our members to reflect upon G-d’s generosity at every moment. A regular thing for us is time and renewal, and how we can develop and share G-d’s gifts in all aspects of our lives, whether at home or at work, in the synagogue or on the street.

My hope is that, as we move forward through the year, each of us will contemplate how we can use and share the gifts that G-d has given us. The Bet Yossef Community Center calendar is designed to help stimulate your reflection. Please take a few moments to look through it in light of your own experiences with time and faith – and how you can begin to renew yourself right now.

K’ siva V’ chasima Tova, a sweet and happy New Year!

Sincerely,

Rabbi Shmuel and Shaina Attal

EL GHRIBA SYNAGOGUE

Djerba, Tunisia

The El Ghriba Synagogue, also known as the Djerba Synagogue, is located on the Tunisian island of Djerba. It is situated in the Jewish village of Hara Seghira (currently known as er-Riadh), several kilometers southwest of Houmt El Souk, the main town of Djerba. The synagogue is believed to be Africa's oldest synagogue and has been a site of pilgrimage for Jews for hundreds of years. Legend says that after the destruction of King Solomon's temple in 586 BC, the El Ghriba synagogue was founded. On the other hand, it is more likely that it was founded following the destruction of the Second Temple in Jerusalem in 70 AD. The synagogue is also known for its annual pilgrimage which takes place on Lag Baomer.

SYNAGOGUE OF CASALE MONFERRATO
Piedmont, Italy

The synagogue was built in 1595, and is particularly known for its exquisite interior. The walls and ceiling are embellished with elaborate painting, carving and gilding. However, it still remains "anonymous," giving no indication that it is a Jewish Temple from the outside. As in most early European synagogues, the entrance is not directly on the street, but via a courtyard. This was done for security purposes, and to comply with the laws of the time that it was built, which required that the sound of Jewish worship not be audible.

LANCUT SYNAGOGUE

Lancut, Poland

The Łańcut Synagogue is a Baroque-style synagogue built in 1761 on the site of an earlier wooden synagogue which was destroyed by fire in 1733. It is a rare surviving example of the vaulted synagogues with a bimah-tower, that were built throughout the Polish lands in masonry from the sixteenth through the early nineteenth centuries. During the war, the building was partially destroyed and later turned into a grain storage. The stunning decorations preserved within this 18th-century synagogue are a beautiful memorial to the lost Jewish community.

OBUDA SYNAGOGUE

Obuda, Hungary

Obuda Synagogue is the oldest functioning synagogue in Budapest, Hungary. It was built in 1820-1821 in French Empire style by architect Andreas Landesherr. The building's original copper roof was requisitioned by the government and melted for munitions production during World War I. It was a center of Jewish life until World War II, when most of the community was destroyed. The building was confiscated by the state and used for various purposes until 2010, when it was reclaimed and restored as a synagogue and a cultural center.

TYKOCIN SYNAGOGUE

Tykocin, Poland

Tykocin Poland Synagogue is the second largest synagogue in Poland, built in 1642 in mannerist-early Baroque style. It was a center of Jewish culture and religion until World War II, when most of the Jews were killed by the Nazis. The synagogue was desecrated and used as a warehouse until it was restored in the 1970s. It has historic wall paintings of Hebrew prayers, a bimah, a Torah ark, and old Torah scrolls. It is a tourist attraction and a memorial of Jewish heritage

GREAT SYNAGOGUE

Florence, Italy

Known for its grandeur, the Great Synagogue in Florence is built with layers of travertine and granite, creating a striped effect. Old photographs show bold red and beige stripes, but the bold colors of the stone have faded over time. In August 1944, at the end of World War II, retreating German troops worked with Italian fascists to lay explosives to destroy the synagogue. However, Italian resistance fighters managed to defuse most of the explosives and only a limited amount of damage was done. The damage that was done was restored after the war.

Coptic, Egypt

The Ben Ezra Synagogue, is situated in Old Cairo, Egypt. Ben Ezra as an institution is ancient, and has occupied at least three buildings in its history. The current building dates to the 1890s. The Ben Ezra Synagogue is most famous for the "Geniza," or store room, that was found in it. According to Jewish law, one cannot throw out old papers or manuscripts containing G-d's name. Shuls commonly have store rooms to house the papers which are later buried. The Geniza that was discovered in the Ben Ezra Synagogue was extensive and was distributed among several academic libraries around the world.

EDIRNE SYNAGOGUE

Edirne, Turkey

The Grand Synagogue of Edirne is a historic Sephardi synagogue located in Maarif Street of Edirne, Turkey. It was designed in the Moorish Revival style and restored in 2015. The synagogue was built in 1907 due to the edict of the Sultan Abdulhamit II after a large fire burned down 13 local synagogues, in 1905. Edirne used to be an enclave for one of the biggest Sephardic communities of the Ottoman Empire in the beginning of the 20th century.

CAVE SYNAGOGUE

Jerusalem, Israel

The Cave Synagogue is a new shul that was inaugurated in the Western Wall tunnels. The magnificent synagogue is the result of 12 years of structural support, construction, and archeology work, in which activities were carried out in order to maintain and preserve the impressive cavern in which it is located in the tunnels. The synagogue is located opposite the 'Great Stone' in the Western Wall tunnels, near the site of the Holy of Holies.

GREAT SYNAGOGUE OF IASI

Iasi, Romania

Great Synagogue (Iasi) is the oldest surviving synagogue in Romania, built between 1657 and 1682. It is an Ashkenazi synagogue in mannerist-early Baroque style, with a brick and stone structure and a fresco decorated interior. It was a center of Jewish life and culture in Iasi until the Holocaust, when most of the Jews were killed in the Iasi pogrom. The synagogue was restored in 1977 and 2015, and is listed on the National Register of Historic Monuments. It still serves as a synagogue and a tourist attraction

THE OLD-NEW SYNAGOGUE

Prague, Czech Republic

The Old-New Synagogue in Prague is Europe's oldest active synagogue, built in 1270. Its Gothic architecture, resembling a fortress, features thick walls and small windows. The synagogue is associated with the legendary Golem of Prague, a clay creature created by Rabbi Loew to protect the Jewish community. Inside, the Torah Ark, a stone structure adorned with carvings, holds the synagogue's sacred scrolls. Despite surviving fires, wars, and persecution, the synagogue remains a symbol of resilience. It continues to be a place of worship, preserving Prague's rich Jewish heritage and welcoming visitors to experience its historical and cultural significance.

Our Inspiration

"In the old days there was a person in every town who would light the street lamps with a flame he carried at the end of a long pole. On the street corners, the lamps waited to be lit. Sometimes, however, the lamps were not as easily accessible... there were lamps in forsaken places. Someone had to light even those lamps so that they would fulfill their purpose and light up the paths of others. Today too, someone must be willing to forgo his or her convenience and reach out to light even those forsaken lamps..."
